New town crier has wealth of experience

CHOSEN APPLICANT COVERS TWO OTHER PLACES

By ANDERS LARSSON
anderson@lindlenews.co.uk

A MAN with a wealth of experience has been chosen as town crier for Seaton.

Seaton and District Chamber of Commerce and Seaton Town Council joined forces to find a town crier and has announced the appointment of David Craner.

Mr Craner is already the town crier for Crewkerne as well as Beaminster, and will add Seaton to his portfolio after having impressed at interview and audition last Saturday.

There were four applicants for the voluntary role, and interviews were staged before an audition in the town centre during the Christmas festival on Saturday, December 4th.

One candidate had to pull out, though, and another was disqualified as he did not wish to perform a specific cry during audition, according to chamber secretary Gaynor Sedgwick.

Organisers decided the audition cry should have a Seaton theme.

But it is claimed the candidate felt that a prepared cry on a set theme would not reflect the true personality of candidates.

An appeal for female candidates failed to generate any responses, but organisers are confident they found the right person.

Gaynor said that those who did audition generated good responses from the crowd, with Mr Craner coming out on top.

She added: "The chamber would like to thank the three candidates who put themselves forward.

"David Craner comes to Seaton with a wealth of experience and is proud to represent the town.

"We are delighted with the appointment and we are very confident he will make an excellent town crier.

"David will work closely with the chamber of commerce, and we look forward to seeing and hearing much more of David in the future."

Those interested in the town crier's services should call Gaynor on 01297 625671 for more information.

Rotary spirit is underway

THE Rotary Club of Seaton reports that its Christmas programme is well and truly underway.

Rotary Christmas post boxes are placed at Steve's Newsagents in Seaton, Seaton Co-op, Colyton Butchers, Beer News and at Santander in the Alliance and Leicester premises in Seaton.

The cost is 20p per card, with proceeds going to the local scout and guide groups who also take part in the deliveries.

The Rotary post covers Seaton, Colyton, Beer and Colyford only.

A programme of Rotary Christmas collections will take place outside Seaton's Co-op on Saturday, December 11th and Friday, December 17th.

Collectors will be in Beer on the Saturdays of December 11th and 18th — and also in Colyton on Saturday, December 18th.

Lights go on by the seaside

BEER will celebrate the festive season with late night shopping and a Christmas light switch-on on Friday, December 10th.

The lights will go on at 6.30pm, and shops will be open from 6pm-9pm.

The shops will be open with wine and mincepies, and the switch-on will be followed by carols round the Christmas trees.

In addition, there will be many stalls trading in Mariners' Hall and Father Christmas will also appear during the evening.

The event is organised by the management committee of Mariners' Hall, and more information is available from Carole Arnold on 07710 809 765.

Bazaar raises huge £1,500

A CHRISTMAS bazaar and associated events in Seaton proved to be roaring successes as the charity involved raised more than £1,500.

Organisers are delighted and have praised everyone who supported the event in various ways.

The Seaton and Axmouth branch of Cancer Research UK staged the bazaar on Saturday, November 27th in Seaton.

Paula Vickers, of Cancer Research UK, said: "Thank you to all of our helpers and supporters for helping us raise a fantastic £1,537.52 at the Christmas bazaar held at Seaton Town Hall.

"The Co-op is always so generous in allowing local charities to use their space and it is always a very successful location — thank you to them also."

Hi-vis patrol near schools

POLICE in Seaton have been conducting high visibility patrols around schools in the area.

During the patrols, officers have been speaking to drivers about safe parking around the schools to ensure the safety of children, parents and teachers.

Officers have also helped set up a community speed watch scheme.

So far, 75 vehicles have been checked, with only two exceeding the speed limit.

A spokesman for Seaton police said: "Our aim is to keep Seaton roads safe."

Mini crime spree hits seaside village

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@hindlenews.co.uk

A MINI crime spree hit Beer in November, according to statistics released by Seaton police.

Five offences were recorded in the east Devon fishing village last month, compared to two in November 2009.

Overnight between Friday, November 6th, and Saturday, November 7th, the panels of a Land Rover parked in the village were scratched.

A 70-year-old man was arrested for drink driving on the A3052 on Tuesday, November 7th. The man has been charged to court.

On Sunday, November 14th, a domestic assault was reported.

CDs, a CD player and sunglasses were taken from a Peugeot parked in the Underleys on Tuesday, November 16th.

An offence of criminal damage took place between Thursday, November 25th, and Friday, November 26th, when a car parked in Fore Street had its panels scratched.

Colyton was the scene of four incidents last month.

A milk bottle was stolen from Queen's Court on Wednesday, November 3rd.

On Thursday, November 11th, a car parked at Colyton Grammar School was broken into and a phone, torch, sunglasses and CDs were stolen.

Police received reports of a domestic related assault, also on Thursday, November 11th.

Overnight between Thursday, November 11th, and Friday, November 12th, a window at a property in Vicarage Street was smashed.

Only one offence was reported in Branscombe in November. A Renault parked outside the Fountain Head was broken into and a make-up bag was stolen.

No offences were reported in Axmouth, Farway, Northleigh, Rousdon and Combyne and Southleigh.

PC Steve Speariett, of Seaton police, said: "November's total of 10 crimes is once again well below the long term average of 18 reported crimes for the month and is the second lowest total since at least 2004.

"There has been an increase of theft from motor vehicles and I urge everyone to ensure all valuables are kept out of sight. If there is no opportunity to steal, then the opportunist thief will go elsewhere.

"The Seaton neighbourhood team would also like to wish everyone a happy and peaceful Christmas and New Year."

Anyone with information about any of the offences should call Seaton police on 08452 777444. Alternatively contact Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Crash causes horse death

AN elderly Honiton man has been reported for a number of driving offences following a fatal collision with a horse in Copford Road, Sidbury, on Monday, November 29th.

The man was driving a silver Vauxhall Corsa when the incident happened just after 12noon.

The woman who was riding the horse had to be airlifted to the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital by Devon Air Ambulance suffering from leg and back injuries. However, her injuries where not thought to be life threatening. The horse had to be put down at the scene.

The main road through Sidbury was closed for around two hours while investigations into the accident took place.

A spokesman for Devon and Cornwall Police said: "The driver received minor injuries to his hands. He has been reported for a number of driving offences."

Anyone who witnessed the incident should contact police on 08452 777444.

Crews attend vehicle blaze

FIREFIGHTERS from Honiton were called to reports of a vehicle fire in Dunkeswell, near Honiton.

The incident took place on Monday, November 29th, at approximately 8.30pm.

On arrival at the scene the fire crew used one hose reel and two breathing apparatus to extinguish the flames.

The car was severely damaged by the fire.

Job done well, club continues

AN Axminster job club passed its trial stage with flying colours and is now looking to the future.

Axminster Alternative Job Club was set up by the town's churches and held its first session in May.

It is a volunteer-based operation and its services are free to use. Many of the 21 volunteers have vast experience from the commercial world, including in human resources.

As a result, they say they know what employers are looking for and can help clients with CV writing and prepare them for interviews.

Job club officer Peter Porteous stressed that the job club is open to everyone, so there is no need to belong to or be active in a church.

He said the alternative job club was started on a trial basis, and explained: "We didn't know what to expect but we've had a good response, so will continue."

The job club has one session per week and has averaged 12 people per session. Mr Porteous knows that a number of people have found jobs as a result of attending, but it is not possible to give a precise number as some clients may be successful without letting the job club know.

In addition to job hunting, the club is also able to "signpost" people to relevant agencies on issues like training for example.

Ray Cackett, of Tytherleigh, has just moved back to the area and is looking for work.

He spoke to Pulman's View at the job club and said: "The nearest job centre is in Honiton. This is nearer and easier. They [the volunteers] are using their many years of knowledge to work on your CV and job application. All the information is excellent."

Another job seeker, who wished to remain anonymous, was equally pleased with the services offered, saying: "Of course they cant say 'We'll find you a job.' But they give you all the tools."

"They are doing a very good job. It is a service that is not available anywhere else in Axminster."

Axminster Alternative Job Club is an independent project but it liaises on a regular basis with relevant government agencies. The job club is based at the Methodist Church hall and is open on Thursdays from 9.30am-12.30pm.

Online information is available at <http://sites.google.com/site/axminsterajc/> or by calling 01297 348 63 (opening hours only) or 07919 944321.

JOHNSON TO FIGHT HER LAST FOR EDDC

Leader ready to step down

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

EAST Devon District Council leader Sara Randall Johnson (Cons) has announced she will not seek to carry on as leader following local elections next year.

She will try to be re-elected as a councillor, though, but won't put her name forward for the leadership should her party gain majority.

In a press statement issued last week she said: "The local elections on May 5th next year will be the third and last that I shall fight as leader."

"I intend to take EDDC through into the next council session, after which I propose to step down."

"I have thoroughly enjoyed my time as leader of EDDC and it has been a tremendous privilege to serve the people of east Devon over the past 10 years."

But Seaton resident Sandra Semple has questioned the statement, saying it can be read in more than one way.

The former Seaton mayor, who challenged the statement in her capacity as a Seaton resident, said: "Why put out such a press release now?"

"All she had to do (if the Conservatives are returned to power) was to not put her name forward for the job at the time."

"Telling everyone now that she will not stand as leader is unnecessary and confusing."

One passage in the press statement said councillor Johnson would "propose" to stand down, and Pulman's View asked her if she could be persuaded to carry on as leader in the right circumstances.

Councillor Johnson replied to the questions by saying: "I plan to put myself forward to represent the people of Ottery St Mary Rural ward at the election on May 5th and if successful, I look forward to serving them in the new council."

"I have nothing further to add other than what is covered in the press release which has been issued now to allow time for responsible and considered succession."

Inspirational talk on how to 'live lightly'

ON Thursday, November 25th, a meeting was held at Uplyme Village Hall, organized by local churches, entitled Living Lightly: Christian living that doesn't cost the earth.

Approximately 70 people from east Devon and west Dorset joined to hear a talk by a senior staff member of AROCHA about how to live sustainably in a world of finite resources.

Speaker Ruth Valerio was judged 'very inspirational', 'encouraging and balanced' and 'refreshingly different'.

Her talk focused on generosity, humility, frugality, justice, courage, hope, patience and love and how these can be reflected in day-today choices about food, travel, energy-use and waste at home, work, church or in our community.

Jeremy White, one of the organisers of the talk, said: "The audience was thoroughly engaged — suggesting environmental issues, practical eco-tips, taking part in a question-and-answer session and recording personal aims to live more lightly in the year to come."

"The work of the environmental charity AROCHA was featured, and attention drawn to local organisations and initiatives encouraging environmental awareness."

For information about future events contact Mr White on 01297 32299 or by e-mail jeremy.white@onetel.net.

LDF public reaction is four times higher

By ANDERS LARSSON
anderson@indlenews.co.uk

THE response rate to East Devon District Council's (EDDC) Local Development Framework (LDF) public consultation was more than four times higher than a similar exercise in 2008.

The consultation was based on a document which sets out the council's preferred way forward for the next 15 years or so.

Aspects of the document proved unpopular with many residents and led to the formation of a number of pressure groups.

The consultation closed on Tuesday, November 30th, leaving planning policy officials with 2,000 or so replies to analyse.

In short, EDDC must create a document which will guide planning policy in east Devon for the next 15 years.

This document must be submitted to the government towards the end of next year.

As part of the ongoing process, more consultation is expected early next year.

The LDF process started in 2006 and the first public consultation was held in 2008, attracting 478 responses.

An EDDC spokesperson said: "We appreciate that the nearer this policy gets to the stage where it could directly affect decisions, the more interested people are going to show in it."

"We also realise that some of the content is controversial — which is inevitable given the balance we need to strike between providing homes and employment, whilst protecting the environment for future generations.

"The council's planning policy team will spend time trawling through around 2,000 comments in order to create a further discussion document for 2011."

Council bosses are pleased with the decision to use social media for the consultation.

The spokesperson explained: "We're pleased with the response we got from our decision to employ social media channels like Facebook and Twitter to interact with people."

"We had around 200 responses via this medium and 2,000 hits on Facebook."

"We've also had over 6,000 hits on our YouTube spoof advert."

"This had its critics, but it did the job of attracting interest in the consultation and we have been contacted by other councils keen to learn from our innovative approach."

EDDC leader Sara Randall Johnson said the process was a good example of democracy at work.

She commented: "I'm pleased with the response to this latest discussion document."

"There may be major changes to some sections and some fine tuning to others."

"We need to be confident that the final report we show to the Planning Inspectorate is clear, decisive and an appropriate tool to use when we undertake the important task of planning the east Devon of 2016 and 2026."

"This time around there's been a really lively debate, which has included people turning up in numbers at our offices to express their opinions. That's democracy at work and long may it continue."

Cancer care group seeks collectors

THE Devon fundraising branch of Marie Curie Cancer Care is looking for people to help out at its street collections in Honiton in February and March next year.

Funds raised via the collections will be used to help Marie Curie nurses care for people with terminal cancer and other illnesses in their homes.

The collections will take place outside Honiton Tesco on Wednesday and Thursday, February 23rd and 24th.

A further collection will be held on Honiton High Street on Tuesday, March 1st.

Emily Deer, community fundraiser for the charity, said: "We are looking for help from people who may be able to be organisers or host for collections in Honiton."

"As a collection organiser you would organise a local street or store collection for the Great Daffodil Appeal. This includes recruiting collectors, planning the rota, hosting the collection and banking the money collected."

"As a collection host you would welcome collectors to their Great Daffodil Appeal collection, coordinate the distribution of collecting tins and collection trays and count and bank the monies raised."

Anyone interested in helping out should call 01884 703535 or email devonfundraising@mariecurie.org.uk.

Drivers' advice on icy roads as warning comes

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

AS the cold weather continues to bite across much of Pulman's Country, East Devon District Council (EDDC) and Devon and Cornwall Police have issued advice on how to stay safe this winter.

With temperatures barely edging above freezing during the day and the mercury plummeting overnight the Met Office has forecast severe weather across much of the district.

A spokesman for EDDC said: "With the Met Office forecasting severe weather for parts of Devon over the coming days, EDDC has some advice for residents.

"Agencies are putting contingency plans in place in readiness for snow following a flash warning of widespread icy roads.

"Widespread icy patches are expected on untreated surfaces. There could also be snow showers away from immediate coastal areas. The public are advised to take extra care."

Recycling and waste collections could also be affected in the event of bad weather.

The district council spokesman added that residents should look out for messages on www.eastdevon.gov.uk.

He said: "Recycling and waste collections in east Devon will continue as normal unless conditions are so bad that the crews either cannot get to work or it is not safe for their lorries to be on the roads.

"If this happens there will be messages on EDDC's website. In principle, residents should put bins in the normal place for collection on the normal day. If weather prevents crews from collecting, they will collect on the next available day."

Devon and Cornwall Police has launched its month long drink drive campaign in an attempt to keep motorists and pedestrians safe this Christmas.

The campaign is targeting younger drivers and Richard Pryce, of Devon and Cornwall Police's road policing unit, said: "It is our job to catch and prosecute those who drive while under the influence of drink and drugs but we are hoping that this campaign will make anyone tempted to do so to think again.

"We will do everything we can to prevent death and serious injury off the roads but motorists must take a more responsible approach and, if they do not, the consequences are extremely serious."

During the campaign anyone involved in a collision will be breathalysed by officers.

Be aware of premium number scam

POLICE are warning members of the public to be on their guard if receiving a card asking them to call a number starting with 09.

Police are investigating a number of complaints from people who have received such a card through the letter box.

Numbers starting with 09 are premium rate and can be very expensive. Bona fide companies may leave cards after having tried to deliver goods, but scams are also in operation.

Scam cards usually asks the recipient to call a number to re-arrange collection/delivery.

But police are asking people to think twice if it is an 09 number as calling it could cost hundreds of pounds.

Anyone receiving such a card is asked to call police on 08452 777 444 to report it. Online information on how to avoid scams are available at www.consumerdirect.gov.uk.

Festive site

A WEBSITE to help people find their nearest carol, Christmas or nativity service went live yesterday (Monday).

The Diocese of Exeter is behind the website, which can be found at www.findacarolservice.com

Users type in a postcode and are presented with a list of churches near them holding special Christmas services, complete with dates and times.

The Bishop of Exeter, the Rt Revd Michael Langrish, said: "For so many people, carol services are a very important part of their Christmas celebrations. We hope this new website will help everyone to find their nearest service, quickly and easily, this year."

Runners-up in bar mock

A TEAM of sixth form students from Colyton Grammar School has finished as runners up in the regional final of the Bar Mock Trial Competition held in Plymouth recently.

During the competition the students had to prepare two fictional cases and were up against other teams from schools across the south west.

Andrew Gregson, head of history at the grammar school, said: "Students prepared two fictional cases involving alleged car theft and actual bodily harm, which they then defended and prosecuted against other teams from across the region."

WESLEY Thomas Dowell, son of Wayne Dowell and Gay Dowell, married Lynsey Joanna Higgs, daughter of Simon Evans and Karen Evans, in a romantic evening ceremony at Hotel Alexandra, Lyme Regis, on Saturday, November 6th.

The bride wore a beautiful ivory, Grecian-style dress. She was accompanied by maid of honour Kelly Baker and three bridesmaids — Amy Stuart, Megan Higgs and Bethan Higgs — who all wore navy blue.

The groom was supported by his father and brother, Wayne Dowell and Luke Dowell respectively, who were best men.

Only 28 guests attended the intimate ceremony with a larger reception, for 100 hundred guests, held on November 13th.

During the ceremony local musician Billy Matthews sang and guests were treated to the Lyme Regis firework night spectacle during the evening.

The couple, who both work at Water Babies in Honiton, honeymooned at Riviera Maya, Mexico.

Dickensian snowscape

AS I write the landscape has changed overnight into a snowscape, and yet another flurry of light flakes is being driven by a vicious northerly wind; the outlook is bleakly Dickensian.

For wildlife this is a time of great hardship and as these days so many birds have come to depend on garden feeders every effort must be made to ensure that supplies are maintained, even though this can prove to be quite costly.

However, my apple tree, elderly and mistletoe clad as it is, has proved a cheap life-saver! This year it bore the heaviest crop of cookers I can recall, and while some were used for chutney the majority, scores of apples, ended up as windfalls. I decided to leave them to carpet the ground and am very glad I did so, for they have proved a life-line for blackbirds and mistle-thrushes. Soft and mushy, the birds are stocking up on the fruit as fast as they can.

Glancing though the window I can see over a dozen blackbirds, a redwing and a mistle-thrush feeding voraciously. Soon, though, the windfalls will be consumed, but by then, hopefully, the cold snap will be over, the ground soft and normal living resumed.

As yet I have seen no fieldfares, and the solitary redwing is also the first spotted, though I am sure more will appear, driven south and west by the weather. The large holly tree by the garden is rapidly being stripped of its red berries, mainly by woodpigeons, and is probably one of the few bushes still to carry any autumn fruits.

All the hedges have been hacked down by farm cutters, leaving no cover or food for wildlife through the winter. A plea, then, to anyone with a garden, to maintain food supplies for birds through the lean and hungry months ahead.

With snow on the ground this is a difficult time for horse owners, especially if they have animals which have to be exercised. It can also, as my wife discovered a day before the snow arrived, prove to be highly dangerous when an irresponsible and stupid driver is in the vicinity! Exercising her hunter, she was rounding a bend, when the driver of an Asda truck raced towards her almost out of control and missed the horse and rider by inches. Fortunately there were three witnesses and the driver has been reported to Asda.

Only a few days ago a rider was hit by a car near Sidbury, the horse killed and the rider, a woman, severely injured. In this case the driver failed to stop but was later apprehended in Honiton. The majority of drivers are responsible and careful when overtaking horses, but there is always the idiot who thinks he owns the road and overtakes too fast and too close.

From horses to seahorses! The Dorset coastline is renowned for its colonies of seahorses and now they are to be immortalised in art. Fine artist Esther Tyson has won the Undersea Wildlife Art Award from the Dorset Wildlife Trust in association with The Society of Wildlife Artists (SWLA).

The award consists of a bursary which will enable Esther to learn to dive and then work underwater off the Dorset coast. She was inspired to compete for the award after reading about Studland's colony of spiny and short-snouted seahorses and will come to Dorset from her native Derbyshire in the spring to be trained in scuba diving and then to start work recording the underwater life. Her finished work will then be exhibited in Dorset and at the SWLA's annual exhibition in London next year.

Just a reminder that there will be a mid-winter walk to Studland and back, from 10-30am to 3pm, on Thursday, December 30. Bring a packed lunch and binoculars. For full details call Ken Yeates on 07947 141539.

Family buzzes with new honey business

BEEKEEPING has been in the Basterfield family for almost 40-years and now the east Devon entrepreneurs are turning their hobby into a full-time passion.

What started as a one hive operation has now grown to almost 150 hives.

Maureen Basterfield said: "It started with my husband really. He has always had an interest in wildlife and nature and things like that. He used to be a radio amateur and he got talking to a chap who was a teacher in Cornwall. Eventually they agreed to do a swap - radio equipment for some beekeeping equipment - and that is how it started.

"One hive grew to over 140 hives and the plan now is to build up to 400 hives.

"It is a hobby that never went away and it just grew and grew."

The hobby quickly grew into a small business and the family was regularly selling their products at shows and markets across the south west.

"Our son Daniel, grew up with beekeeping and helped out with our small operation for pocket money. Then he went away to university and got a job and that is when we decided to wind back the business," said Maureen.

"However, five years ago Daniel gave up his job and came back to help us out. First of all he started working with us on a part time basis but now it is a full time job for all of us.

"The operation was taking over our house in Ottery St Mary so when it became obvious that Daniel was in this for the long term we started looking for land so that we could build up the business again."

The family has just completed work on the first honey bee farm in the UK for more than 20 years. It is located at Blackbury Farm, near Blackbury Camp, Southleigh.

Facilities at the site include classrooms, honey making and extraction equipment, a gift shop and a kitchen.

Maureen added: "We have everything on site and the idea really is to make this a centre of excellence for beekeeping.

"Teaching is a big part of what we can offer and there has been a lot of interest in bees and beekeeping recently. We offer courses ranging from taster courses to advanced beekeeping."

For more information about the honey produced by the Basterfield family, or for information about the courses and activities on offer at Blackbury Farm, visit www.the-apiary.co.uk.

Top award for waterside hotel

A LYME Regis hotel and restaurant has been awarded the Most Excellent Waterside Hotel 2011 in the Condé Nast Johansens Awards.

The Alexandra Hotel and Restaurant picked up the award during a ceremony held recently.

Kathryn Haskins, owner and managing director of the hotel, said: "This is the new team's first major award and we are incredibly pleased to have won it. Major changes have been made in the last few years since I took over the hotel and we have all been working very hard to achieve our goal.

"It has really paid off, we had a staff meeting with champagne to celebrate - everyone is really proud for the hotel and they deserve to be, any hotel is only as good as the team that fuels it."

Kathryn purchased the Alexandra four years ago from her parents, who had owned the hotel for 30 years. Since the purchase, Kathryn, has redeveloped the hotel.

She added: "The very essence of the Alexandra is the warmth of welcome my parents established — it is something we have combined with our fresh ideas on design, colour, fabrics, art, food and above all peace."

Carer praises DCC for new library terms

A HONITON carer has praised changes at Devon County Council (DCC) libraries.

New terms were put in place on December 1st to make it easier for carers to use the libraries.

They give carers free loans of audio books, free loans of music CDs and reduced overdue charges and reservation fees.

DCC research suggests that many carers find barriers to library use including a lack of time to visit, a lack of regular routine and difficulty in planning ahead.

The changes will bring carers' entitlements in line with those for disabled library users.

Honiton carer Karen Wilson, said: "Being a carer means that I have to prioritise the time I have around the needs of the person I care for.

"I have to be flexible, and sometimes the best laid plans don't work out right, as circumstances prevent me from doing whatever I've planned to do.

"Having this new entitlement to my library card will give me some extra flexibility around my day and will encourage me to use the library more."

Karen, who cares for her husband, has also taken up the council's and NHS Devon's offer of free health and wellbeing checks for carers.

Free health and wellbeing checks are currently available from 42 GP surgeries, health centres and pharmacists across Devon, and the authorities are asking carers to take time to consider their own health needs, in addition to the needs of the people they are caring for.

Approximately 1,500 carers have so far taken up the checks, which are available until March 2011.

County councillor Stuart Barker said: "Carers devote so much time to the people they care for that they often do not stop to consider their own health care needs.

"We are calling on them to take up these free health and wellbeing checks, for the sake of their own health and of the people they are caring for.

"We recognise the incredible value carers give to society, in supporting friends and loved ones, and recognise the strain and pressures that the role can have on normal routines, 24 hours a day, everyday.

"Providing this extra entitlement for carers that use our libraries is another way that we can offer help, for people to help others."

A list showing where the health and wellbeing checks are available is kept constantly updated on Devon County Council's website, at www.devon.gov.uk/carershealthandwellbeingchecks.

Carers can also telephone 0845 094 1502 to book their checks.

CBD welcome

AN east Devon campaign group has welcomed Devon County Council's (DCC) response to the East Devon District Council (EDDC) Local Development Framework (LDF) document.

As previously reported in this newspaper, the LDF document sets out plans to create an extra 19,400 homes and business units across the district by 2026.

Campaign group Communities Before Developers (CBD) has been fighting the plans since they were first revealed.

As part of the EDDC consultation process the county council had to submit its response to the proposals.

In its response, Ian Harrison, DCC's deputy environment director, said: "The county council does have concerns about the justification for the overall scale of housing and employment land provision anticipated in the plan.

"In the case of employment land particularly, there is a risk that the plan may not be considered sound.

"The scale of provision for employment land identified in the emerging core strategy needs to be justified on the basis of clear evidence and analysis."

Claire Wright, CBD campaign spokesman, said: "DCC has given EDDC a clear message that their over-scaled, environmentally damaging plans for artificial growth are unacceptable. It supports much of what we have been saying up until now."

For more information about the campaign visit www.communitiesbeforedevelopers.org.

Police hope to decrease abuse cases

AVON and Somerset Police hope the number of domestic abuse cases in the force area will decrease.

The police deal with around 20,000 reported crimes or incidents of domestic abuse a year in the force area and around 80 per cent of these are female victims.

But many victims of domestic abuse suffer in silence as it is a significantly under reported crime.

To raise awareness of the issue, the force supported the recent Elimination of Violence Against Women Week to encourage people to come forward and report abuse.

During the week, police and other agencies appealed to members of the public to report abuse if they suspect it is happening to someone they know.

Research carried out in the Avon and Somerset area found that around one in five people believe that domestic violence and abuse is a private matter.

But police are urging people to take a stand against violence in any form.

DI Dave Grimstead said: "Domestic abuse is an issue that we take very seriously. It has a higher rate of repeat victimisation than any other crime and every week two people are killed in England and Wales as a result of domestic abuse, so we want to encourage people to speak up as soon as possible about this type of crime.

"No one likes to feel that they are interfering or likely to offend their friends, neighbours or relatives but alerting someone to what is happening can help victims escape years of abuse and violence.

"It can also help the wider community. A perpetrator of domestic abuse often offends outside the home as well so you may be helping the wider community at the same time as helping the person affected by the domestic abuse."

Police are keen to highlight this message to teenagers and young adults at the stage when relationships are being formed as well as the friends and families of married couples and those in long term relationships.

DI Grimstead added: "A reluctance to come forward about domestic abuse is not a generational thing as some people may think.

"We carried out research and found that young people aged 16-25 frequently viewed domestic abuse as a private matter, and had concerns about offering assistance to peers in abusive relationship as they were worried about being seen as interfering."

To report domestic abuse, call the police on 0845 456 7000 or, in an emergency, dial 999.

Alternatively you can call the independent charity Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

For victims of domestic abuse, there is a freephone helpline on 0800 6949 999 or, for more information about the police approach to domestic abuse, visit their website at www.avonandsomerset.police.uk/domesticabuse.

ROOM on the Broom, the smash hit West End Show, flies into the Exeter Northcott for three weeks from Tuesday, December 14th.

Room on the Broom is an ideal introduction to theatre for pre and primary school children and their families; this colourful and engaging production will keep children and their grown-ups enchanted!

Kenny Wax and Nick Brooke are dedicated to producing quality children's theatre in the West End and nationwide. Room on the Broom follows the smash hit West End success of We're Going on a Bear Hunt and The Gruffalo.

Based on the best-selling book by Julia Donaldson and Axel Scheffler, and devised by acclaimed children's theatre company Tall Stories, this musical adaptation lovingly brings Room on the Broom from the page to the stage with songs, plenty of laughs and some ingenious puppetry.

Join the witch and her cat as they fly happily along on their broomstick – until a mighty wind blasts the witch's hat, followed by her bow and then her wand away into the night! With the help of a daft dog, a beautiful bird and a friendly frog, her belongings are retrieved. But this broomstick's not meant for five and – CRACK – it snaps in two.

When a hungry dragon appears, who will save the poor witch? And will there ever be room on the broom for everyone?

The show runs for 55 minutes and tickets information is available from the Exeter Northcott box office on 01392 493 493, or online at www.exeternorthcott.co.uk.

Mega evil 3D film

FILM

SUPERMAN wouldn't be quite so super without scheming Lex Luthor, while Batman's cowl and utility belt would gather dust were it not for the maniacal Joker.

Good and evil live side by side, locked in a perpetual tug of war. Light or dark occasionally triumphs but invariably the balance of power shifts between them.

Directed by Tom McGrath, who previously made Madagascar and its sequel, Megamind is a fast-paced computer animated adventure that asks if a villain could become a hero when the entire world is pitted against him.

The role reversal taps into a rich vein of humour and screenwriters Alan J Schoolcraft and Brent Simons have fun plundering the conventions of the genre.

There is an affectionate nod to Marlon Brando's scenery-chewing portrayal of Superman's father Jor-El.

However, in a vintage year for dazzling, family-friendly animation led by Toy Story 3 and How To Train Your Dragon, McGrath's film lacks that special something to distinguish it from the crowd.

Megamind — voiced by Will Ferrell — is separated from his alien parents as a child and crash-lands on Earth, where he grows up in the Metro Prison For The Criminally Gifted.

Surrounded by thieves, murderers and degenerates, he discovers his calling.

"Being bad is the one thing I'm good at!" he giggles, sowing the seeds of a lifelong rivalry with dashing hunk Metro Man (Brad Pitt), who gets all of the applause and the girls, including TV journalist Roxanne Ritchi (Tina Fey).

Miraculously, one of Megamind's elaborate plans comes to fruition and Metro Man is destroyed, allowing the villain and his loyal henchman, Minion, to take charge of Metro City.

Unthinkably, the villain develops strong feelings for Roxanne.

Megamind is a lively affair and makes good use of the 3D technology during the action sequences.

Vocal performances are strong and Ferrell tugs the heartstrings as the lead protagonist, who is tired of striking fear into everyone he meets.

However, with the focus on the unlikely romance and a noticeable absence of cute supporting characters, young audiences may get bored.

Italian movie at Exeter Phoenix

ON Thursday, January 27th Exeter Phoenix is showing the Italian film Baaria (15) at 7.30pm.

Like his hugely successful Cinema Paradiso, Tornatore has drawn on autobiographical experiences in this epic, detailed recreation of his native Sicilian town (Bagheria). Covering some half a century, we see the town's development from a rural backwater, through the war years into the 1980s as Peppio, a humble shepherd, gets himself educated and climbs the Communist party ladder to join the local council. Inevitably, the Mafia are in the background, but this is an uplifting story of an ordinary man's search for a better life.

Tickets cost £4.50 — concessions £3.50. Contact Exeter Phoenix at www.exeterphoenix.org.uk or call the box office on 01392 667080.

Opera gig for charity is classical

A GITTISHAM-BASED classical singer will be putting on a show in aid of the Clic Sargent charity. Alison Kettlewell will be performing at Gittisham Village Hall on Friday, December 17th, from 7pm.

Speaking to Pulman's View, Alison said: "I am a professional classical and opera singer and over the past few years I have supported the charity Clic Sargent through putting on concerts and have so far raised over £2,000.

"I am hoping to raise some more for them when I am putting on another concert.

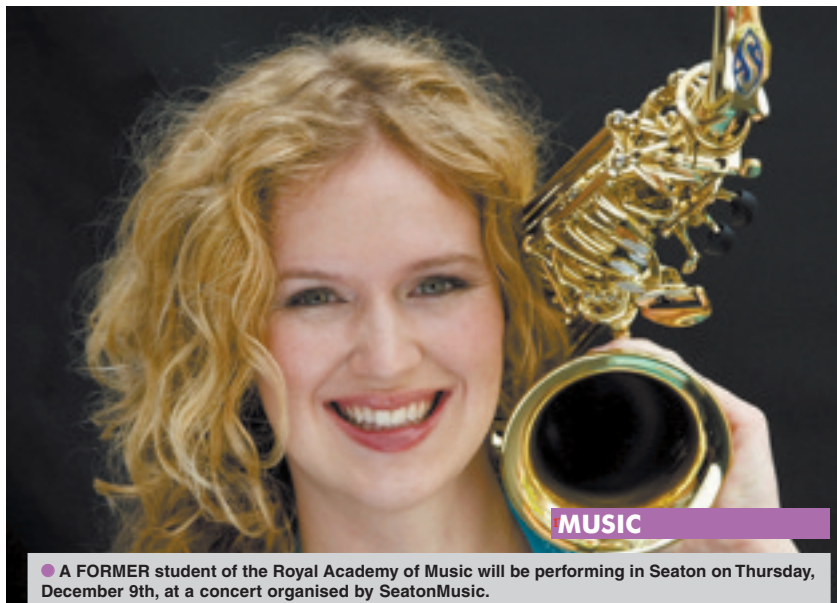

"I decided to back the Clic Sargent charity around five years ago after I was lucky enough to have a healthy little boy. I decided it cost me nothing to use my singing voice to give something back to families in the incredibly distressing situation of having their child diagnosed with cancer.

"Clic Sargent provide specialist nurses for care in NHS oncology departments who also visit homes and schools as well as specialist social workers. They also help families financially, provide home from homes for them to stay at when visiting oncology units, and a place for holidays at the wonderful Malcolm Sargent House."

Festive Thoughts

I was going to write an article just about property and our new website, which comes online hopefully next week. However, with snow on the ground and a bitterly cold wind, I was standing by the log fire at the Blue Ball in Sidford when a delicious aromatic smell drifted over the bar, of mulled wine. I do realise that there is only a tenuous link between mulled wine and property, but it is part of the standard advice that the smell of freshly baked bread or freshly brewed coffee always helps to sell your home. Therefore, with tongue planted very firmly in cheek, I would like to suggest that for winter sales, mulled wine should replace the baked bread and coffee, especially perhaps, if a glass or two is offered to any prospective purchaser. With the festive season nearly upon us, I would like to thank Roger and the staff of the Blue Ball for allowing me to share their traditional recipe with you.

In a saucepan, place two bottles of full bodied red wine, a pint of water, ½ a pint of orange cordial, a sliced lemon, two cinnamon sticks, a clove studded orange and simmer. Add a cup of brown sugar and transfer to a slow cooker where they add a further 50ml of brandy or more if you prefer. You could of course consume straight away and obviously the quantities can be varied.

Whilst certain sectors of the local property market have been slower moving than others, overall we have had another excellent year. The economy has been growing steadily now for the last twelve months and whilst there are ongoing concerns that other euro zone countries such as Portugal may require further support, property apart from providing a home, will always be a sound long term investment.

The latest statistics from the Communities and Local Government department have predicted that the UK households will grow by more than 200,000 a year and with new house builds barely reaching 100,000, there will be an ongoing shortage of homes in the UK. We are privileged to live in this special part of the country and with a housing shortage and the constant demand of people wishing to move to the South West, homes in our part of the world will always be in demand.

Our new website should be online later this week and has enhanced facilities including site mapping and a page on facebook. The latest copy of our full colour property magazine will be available for collection prior to Christmas, for those of you that wish to consider pastures new, once you have consumed your Christmas turkey and of course the mulled wine.

We have once again sold significantly more properties than any other agent in the area over the past year and we would like to thank everyone for their continuing support. Therefore, if you are thinking of making a move either now or in the New Year, please just give me a call. Best wishes from all of us at John Wood & Co and have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Cheers.

MARKET rules, but legislators rule the market.

If the last five years has taught us anything, it's that a change in the law — even if it's just taxation — will have a profound effect on buyers. And if the buyers decide they want something different, any car manufacturer choosing not to oblige won't be around long enough to explain why.

The perfect example is the change to Vehicle Excise Duty rates. Suddenly all the mainstream car manufacturers have low CO2 cars which are miraculously capable of diving under the magic 100g/km barrier. Happy buyers, not so happy tax man.

Surely this doesn't apply to sellers of dreams like Ferrari? According to the rule makers it does. Just like everyone else, Ferrari has targets to meet, and even if its typical buyers aren't quite so concerned about scraping under the 100g/km barrier, a small saving would be welcomed.

Which is why this looks just like any Ferrari California. Very low and rakish from the nose, the bodywork flowing over the elegant wheels and up over the cabin. The bustle-back rear ends with a neat tail, and hides the extra space required to stow the folding roof without much in the way of compromise. Modern and yet with carefully contrived nods to the past, the California has presence and beauty just like a good Ferrari should.

It also lacks nothing in terms of motive power. Underneath the shark-like nose lies a revised 4.3-litre V8, which in best Ferrari tradition revs to the stars - maximum power is produced at 7,750rpm - and with 460bhp on offer this is nothing less than a full-on Ferrari. Better yet, the California gets the latest in Ferrari transmissions with a seven-speed dual clutch offering with F1 style paddles of course.

But the big difference is that this is the first Ferrari to get stop/start technology — the same kind of thing that eco-hatches have, but inevitably with Ferrari sophistication. It's also worth bearing in mind that keeping a high-revving, monster output V8 engine happy when stopping and starting like this is a little more challenging than in your average city car, but the California can do it seamlessly — starting up within 230 milliseconds, just a fraction slower than its quick-fire gearchanges. The result is spectacular, with the California now capable of emitting just 270g/km, the same as some diesel SUVs.

This is a 2+2 with a folding roof too, so although the rear seats are for the committed, dropping the roof takes a matter of seconds yet provides proper security and comfort when in place. The cabin also contributes greatly to the lack of unwanted drama: this is a simple cabin that is easy to operate and understand, requiring little effort from the driver and there's no need for the passenger to keep their ears shut on the move.

It seems absurd to say so, but the California is the most comfortable and relaxing car to drive to come from Ferrari in some time. Long motorway journeys are simply despatched, and the sensitive steering settles down when on the move, requiring nothing more than a steady hand. Noise levels also fade away at a cruise, and the ride quality is impressive given the obvious tautness of the suspension.

Surely Ferrari hasn't gone all soft then? Not a bit of it. Start flicking the paddles and using all the revs, and the California displays all of the breeding that the prancing horse is famous for. The engine climbs beautifully through the rev range, with serious shove even from low revs combined with a devastating blare from the exhaust. The rapid-fire transmission makes it a cinch to keep the engine in the best part of the rev range, and the paddle shifters mean you can keep both hands on the wheel.

Despite the brutality of the performance the handling and steering are delicately balanced, responding best to metered inputs and a smooth, considered approach. As with other Ferraris the manettino switch allows the driver to tune the stability control and gearbox settings to suit the conditions — and their skills, which means the California can be enjoyed more of the time.

This is a car to be enjoyed after all, and it certainly comes with all the right ingredients for a pleasurable drive.

But a scything cut in emission levels allows the driver to enjoy it even more, knowing that even this six-figure supercar is cleaner and greener than before.

Few rivals can claim such an impressive range of talents.

Lotus Evora S will turn heads of car enthusiasts

IT almost seems like a cliché to say so, but Lotus is really on the up.

Taking a motorshow by the scruff of the neck and putting everyone else in the shade is a hard task for the big boys, so for the modestly-sized firm from Norfolk to steal the limelight at Paris in September was something else.

The five new models on show proved that, with the future of the company on a sure footing, the brilliant engineering brains can get on with what they do best.

The Evora has already won plaudits as well as the all-important hearts and minds of the enthusiasts, with the sharp chassis and slick exterior proving that Lotus can do more than develop Elise spin-offs.

But constant development is the key to success which is why there's now an Evora with an important extra letter at the end.

S in this instance stands for supercharged. Not that the regular Evora is short on power: the naturally-aspirated 3.5-litre V6 punches out 276bhp and a large chunk of torque, but such is the brilliance of the chassis that it can handle significantly more.

The addition of a latest-generation twin scroll supercharger brings the corral up to 345bhp while the torque takes a big jump too: from 2,000rpm the Evora S produces as much torque as the standard version does at its peak.

With a lithe kerbweight of 1437kg, the Evora S can blast beyond 170mph and scorch from 0-62mph in under five seconds. A fast car has become a very fast one.

You won't be able to spot the difference from the outside though. Not unless its wearing the stunning new 19/20-inch alloy wheel option, complete with bespoke specification Pirelli tyres.

The Evora remains a very attractive car: still clearly a 2+2 with occasional rear seats, but the mix of modern, clean lines and the occasional nod to Lotus heritage results in a car that has a distinct knack of turning heads.

Worldwide sales so far of 1,300 units is in line with Lotus's targets, but this is still a relatively rare car - not something that can necessarily be said about its rivals.

Getting in requires a little forethought — this is a very low car after all — but once inside the Evora's cockpit is simple and designed to offer a proper driving environment.

The instruments are smart and important buttons are housed in slick metal-finished pods either side of the binnacle. It's cost in here alright, but with the small wheel close to you and the chunky gear lever sprouting up close to hand, there's no doubt that it's ready for action.

Fire it up and there's a little more mechanical action going on behind your head, although you are only faintly aware of it: this has not become a noisy car despite the addition of the supercharger.

However, Lotus has spent time getting the most in terms of aural pleasure from the V6 and the optional sports exhaust system really adds to the character. Pull away and the extra torque is immediate, right from tickover a modest squeeze of the accelerator will elicit significant forward progress.

The other talent that makes itself known within the first half mile is how superbly the Evora rides. The S has detail suspension changes and is fractionally stiffer than the standard car, and even on the biggest wheel option it deals with very poor road surfaces remarkably well.

This is a proper Lotus: it has the grip, balance and delicacy that you wish every car could have, and every bend becomes a chance to savour its remarkable talents.

The Evora S isn't short of competition at this level — this is most definitely Porsche territory — but no excuses are required: this is a Lotus that can take on the best in the class and turn buyers' heads.

A silver medal for schoolboy's scorching race

SCORCHING heat and sweltering humidity did not deter one young member of Axe Valley Runners as he competed in the Biathlon World Championships held in Dubai recently.

William Blackledge, 10, who attends Charmouth Primary School, picked up a team silver medal in the race which consisted of a 500 metre run, a 50 metre sea swim and another 500 metre run.

Dave Mutter, of Axe Valley Runners, said: "As you can imagine, Dubai is not the coldest of places and even though the race was early in the morning William had just two days to get used to the baking 36 degree heat and the high humidity.

"None of this phased William, he performed superbly to finish 4th boy, just behind Great Britain's Alix Hinds. This was a fantastic achievement for William, who is a member of the Axe Valley Runners and the Dorset Pentathlon Club. He is a superb young athlete."

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

Blister run in sub zero temperature

ON a bitterly cold day last Sunday, a dozen Honiton runners set off for Bicton College to take part in Exmouth Harriers' Bicton Blister or Bicton Lite races.

Temperatures had managed to get down to minus five degrees first thing in the morning and there was still a scattering of snow left over from a snow shower earlier in the week.

The temperature was still well below zero as the race began and Honiton runners spotted only two foolhardy racers dressed in shorts and a racing vest — most chose several layers though.

The Bicton Blister is approximately 10 miles and begins on the road with most of the route being on the pebbled heaths of Bicton and the very exposed Woodbury Common.

Once again Bruce Strawbridge was first back for Honiton in 57th place with a time of 1:17:41. Ceri Oak was next in, coming the fourth lady overall and first in her age category. She finished in 80th place with a time of 1:20:10.

The next trio came in after a close battle for the final order. Richard Harris just about triumphed finishing in 99th place in 1:22:53.

Steve Davey finished just six seconds and two places behind Harris. Davey chased Harris up the final stretch but, although completely done in, Harris managed to hold the lead. Davey was also aware that Vernon Gillard was not far behind and admitted that had he not been on the chase, Gillard may well have caught him. Gillard was 107th in 1:23:18.

Next home was Roger Saunders who had a good race coming 132nd in 1:26:09, just managing to keep ahead of Julie Payne.

It was Payne's first time running the Blister and she found it tough but ran well to finish one place behind Saunders and four seconds later.

Judy Davey was next back and, although slower than the previous year, she was taking consolation in the fact that the course was longer.

She came 169th in 1:29:48. Nick Thorpe managed to pip John Burgess over the finish line.

Thorpe was 208th in 1:33:20 with Burgess one place and four seconds behind. Sandra Thorpe completed the Blister line-up for Honiton coming 344th in 1:54:32. There were 369 runners.

Tracey Strawbridge competed in the Bicton Lite, which is a shortened version of the Blister— about 4.5 miles. Strawbridge was pleased with her race, coming 54th in 51:51 out of 80 runners.

In equally chilly conditions, Steve Boyes ran in the Newcastle Marathon.

Steve felt a tad dizzy after the five laps but was pleased with his time of 3:30:24 — although the winner completed it in 2:46. Boyes was 30th out of 144 finishers.

Non club member wins Otterton Reindeer 10k

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

NIC Smith was a popular and somewhat surprising winner of the Otterton Reindeer 10k multi-terrain race on Sunday.

Smith doesn't belong to a club and scarcely races but he clearly has talent as he claimed top prize from a field of 148 finishers.

"Nic is a local lad but I don't think I have ever seen him race before," said event organiser John Perratt of Sidmouth Running Club.

While the field wasn't as strong as in previous years Smith nevertheless kept his nerve to hold off two club athletes in Exmouth Harriers veteran Mike Musgrove and Ben Chesters of Sidmouth Running Club. Sidmouth Running Club also had youngster Kit Grierson and Milan Goc in the top twenty.

Leading woman was Lin Lascelles of Maiden Newton Runners who with her husband Martin, who finished 11th overall, also went away happy.

"We always give a prize for the first married couple and Martin and Lin retained their title although they were pushed hard by Martin and Lucy Owen, who have just moved to Sidmouth," added Perratt.

Martin Owen finished 14th and wife Lucy was second woman behind Lascelles with Joanna MacKenzie of Raleigh Rascals third.

While numbers were slightly down in the 10k there was a record turn-out in the 3k fun run with 187 finishers.

"With most of the local football matches called off all the kids turned up and had a run instead and they really seemed to enjoy themselves," explained Perratt.

Winner of the fun run was Sidmouth teenager Zak Francis with clubmate Maya Elston first girl.

10k — Men: 1 Nic Smith (unatt, M40) 41:41; 2 Mike Musgrove (Exm, M40) 41:45; 3 Ben Chesters (SRC) 41:46; 4 James Jackson

(ARunners, M40) 42:22; 5 Kit Grierson (SRC, U20) 42:23; 6 Spencer Giles (Raleigh Rascals) 42:41.

Women: 1 Lin Lascelles (Maiden Newton, W35) 44:16; 2 Lucy Owen (unatt, W35) 46:18; 3 Joanna Mackenzie (Raleigh Rascals, W35) 46:19. 148 finishers.

Fun Run 3k — men: 1 Zak Francis (SRC, U17) 13:56; 2 Felix Ford (unatt, U12) 14:19; 3 Sam Pyne (unatt, U12) 14:20.

Girls: 1 Maya Elston (SRC, U17) 15:35; 2 Rosie Moger (unatt, U12) 16:22; 3 Franki Kingroast (unatt, U17) 16:46. 187 finishers.

Former Honiton Running Club athlete James Denne won a bronze medal in the senior men's race at the Devon County Cross Country Championships held at the Exeter Arena on Sunday.

In the Under 15 girls' race Layla Felgate of Axe Valley Runners was fifth and team-mate Lydia Clapp eighth.

AXMINSTER INDOOR BOWLS CLUB

IN the County Trophy the men of Axminster Indoor Bowls Club were unlucky to lose by just one shot against Padbrook Park (88-89) after both away rinks won well.

Graham Ayres, David Harris, Norman Denslow, and Charlie Barber (27-13) and John Packham, Malcolm Denslow, Brian Parsons, and Roger Woolland (31-19).

In the mixed friendlies the club lost the two home matches and won the away fixture. A home defeat against Severalls (45-56) with only Les Monk, Margaret Crompton, David Harris, and Janet Parsons managing a win (22-14) before going to Taunton

Deane and pulling off a creditable 60-53 victory after being 18-36 down shortly after tea.

The club then came down to earth with a bump losing badly at home to Madeira (48-89) although Brian Clark, Ken Quick, Ann Clayton, and Margaret Crompton played very well to win their rink (24-17).

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE ROUND-UP

RECENTLY promoted Seaton Town are the proud new joint-leaders of the Premier division after their 3-1 win at home to Budleigh Salterton.

It was an eighth Premier victory in succession for Seaton, and probably a new club record, and their title rivals are now well aware that the new boys on the block mean business.

Seaton had the match wrapped up at half-time with goals from Josh French (2) and Ben Ede, and although Budleigh came on strong after the break they could only undo the home defence once.

Cameron Vere and Dan Norman stood out for Seaton but as a whole they did the job delighted manager Josh Stunnett requested. Seaton's victory drew them level with St Martins who were one of three Premier teams to call off their game because of the weather.

Beer Albion bounced out of the Devon Premier cup 5-2 at home to Plymstock of the SW Peninsular League but really gave a good account of themselves and could have been a few goals ahead at the break.

At 3-2 down in the second half they were very much in contention but Plymstock scored twice late on to underline their status.

John Cooper with a penalty and James Melville scored for Beer whose manager Mark Ward was utterly proud of the way they performed with Ollie Morgan the pick of the side.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE ROUND-UP

ANNETTS IS OUT OF RETIREMENT AND STILL HAS IT

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

BEAMINSTER manager Shaun Annetts came out of retirement to prove he hasn't lost his touch as he kept a clean sheet for the reserves as they stretched their lead at top of Division Two.

The 45-year-old was expecting a quiet afternoon supporting the club's second side after the first team match fell victim to the icy conditions which decimated the Perry Street League programme for a second successive week.

But an SOS call from reserves boss Robin Ormsby had Annetts scrambling around for his boots and goalkeeper's gloves for the match at Dowlish and Donyatt.

"The reserve team goalkeeper (Martin Towser) couldn't make it so I was called out of retirement for my first competitive game in probably five-and-a-half years and I really enjoyed it," said Annetts.

"I used to play as goalkeeper so it wasn't as if I had never done it before but it was nice to come back and keep a clean sheet for the lads and help them stay at the top.

"I am feeling pretty stiff now and I expect it won't be until Thursday before I can tie my own shoe laces but it was good to get the gloves on again. I just wish I was 20 again; I feel 20 but my body doesn't!"

In truth Annetts had a quiet afternoon as Beaminster dealt competently with the home side threat although he was beaten once but Tom Evans' shot hit the crossbar and was cleared.

"It was a battling performance by the reserves and that was their first clean sheet of the season," said Beaminster chairman Dave Pearson.

The only other match to survive the weather was in the Jack Venn Cup with Uplyme beating Hinton St

George in a rousing five-goal thriller.

In their first game for three weeks it looked like it wasn't going to be Uplyme's day as player-chairman Gavin Fowler, who only last week handed over the manager's job to Rob Coombe, hit the post and the crossbar.

But a lucky break just before half time saw Uplyme break the deadlock when Greg Matthew's perfect cross was turned into his own net by a Hinton St George defender.

Within minutes of the re-start Harry Langdon had equalised but Uplyme then took control of the tie with two quick goals.

Fowler's luck finally changed when a superb through ball from Adam Neill sent the striker clear and he coolly slotted the ball in to restore Uplyme's lead.

Adam Neale then wrapped up victory with the best goal of the match.

Jim Beddow's pass split open the home defence but winger Neale still had a lot to do before shooting home from a narrow angle.

"They grabbed a late goal and then threw everything at us for the last three minutes but we held on for a deserved victory," said Fowler.

"It was an excellent result and continues the progress we are making this season.

"We have had to rebuild the team since the 2005/6 season which was the heyday of the club and after a few lean years we seem to be turning the corner.

"We have a good group of 18/19 lads who turn up for training every week and they seem to be enjoying their football.

"We are currently fourth in the league and have quite a few games in hand on the clubs above us so we are still in the chase for promotion. Things are certainly looking good at the moment."

SOUTH WEST PENINSULA — OTTERY ST MARY FOOTBALL CLUB

WITH new signing John Veale cup-tied the Otters defence was again ruthlessly exposed by the home side who enjoyed their second cup victory against Dane Bunney's side in the Devon Premier Cup.

"Again we looked good going forward but against that sort of pressure we were exposed at the back," groaned Bunney.

"It is a tough time at the moment and I just have to keep working hard with what I have got because we just don't have the money to bring in new defenders.

"But with John bringing his experience to the side that will definitely help the younger players."

Budleigh's goals came from a Danny Williams hat-trick, two from Adam Clarke and one from Sam Schaepli.

SOUTH WEST PENINSULA — AXMINSTER TOWN FC

FOR the third successive week Axminster Town failed to get a game but the weekend wasn't without incident as player-manager James Bennett ended up in hospital.

"We held a five-a-side training match indoors instead and I ended up twisting my knee and being taken to hospital," said Bennett.

"The doctor doesn't think I have damaged the cruciate but there was too much swelling for him to be sure so I have to go back again. But I won't be playing for quite a while now which is a shame as I was getting fitter."

DECISION IS KEY IN CUP

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

Devon Premier Cup third round
Beer Albion 2
Plymstock Utd 5

A CRUCIAL penalty decision early in the second half proved to be a key moment in Beer Albion's Devon Premier Cup third round match against Plymstock United.

The referee gave the spot kick after Beer striker James Melville had been brought down by Plymstock keeper James Gill and with no other defender in sight the home side and their fans awaited the red card.

"Their keeper wiped out James and yet he wasn't even booked," said Beer manager Mark Ward.

"But there wasn't any Plymstock player behind their keeper so by the rules he should have been sent off for that.

"I think that would have been the turning point for us. We made it 1-1 from the spot and if they had been down to 10 men we would have been in with a good shout. But that is football and you just have to live with it."

Johnny Cooper kept his nerve to slot home the penalty to wipe out Chris Stoffell's strike just before half-time but as Beer sensed an upset against their higher league rivals they left gaps at the back which Plymstock ruthlessly exposed.

"All our players commented that the pace of the game was far quicker than they are used to," added Ward.

"They scored two quick goals and while Jimmy Melville pulled it back to 3-2 we were caught on the break as we pushed for the equaliser.

"The scoreline flattered them at the end and didn't reflect the game.

"We gave a good account of ourselves and it was a good experience for the lads to play a team from a higher level."
